Pollard, Searle and Coffin speakers at water meeting

Sparky Pollard and Dan Searle, both former mayors of Monterey, will be the speakers for the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association, opposed to the water bonds, at the open public meeting to be held in the multipurpose room of Tularcitos School next Tuesday, September 21, at 8 p.m.

Board Pres. Ed Coffin of the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District will speak in favor of issuing the bonds for the purchase of the existing water companies.

The meeting, which is jointly sponsored by the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association (CVPOA) and the Valley Chamber of Commerce, is not a debate or argument, CVPOA President St. E. P. Tyner, stressed last week at the meeting of that organization. The purpose of the public hearing is to inform everyone of both sides of the issue and let them make up their own minds after studying the information, he said.

The voters go to the polls on Tuesday, September 28, to decide whether or not to issue revenue bonds in the amount of $17,500,000 for the "acquisition, construction, improvement and financing" of the waterworks systems of the California Water and Telephone Company and East Monterey Water Service.

The steering committee of the Concerned Citizens urges everyone to attend the Water Bond meeting

Jaycees host debate

Monterey Peninsula Jaycees will host a debate between speakers for and against the coming water bond issue at Carmel Middle School on Wednesday, September 22, 8 p.m. The debate will be held in the drama room of the school (C-14).

The Jaycees hope to encourage the voters of the Peninsula to hear both sides of one of the most critical issues to come before them in many years. They will also sponsor other meetings in Pacific Grove and Seaside.

Church plans picnic

An old fashioned family type get-together is planned by the Women's Sodality and the Men's Club of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Catholic Church on Sunday, September 19, at the Filter Plant. Beginning at 1:00 o'clock immediately following church services, families are invited for an afternoon of games, and getting acquainted. For information phone picnic chairman Kevin Walsh 659-4144.

PROUD RIDERS massed for the grand entry parade during the annual horse show staged by the Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club at its grounds Sunday before last. Leading the parade was Joe Hitchcock.

Donations needed to complete bath house

Contributions have fallen $1500 short of the $4,000 needed to complete the Community Pool bath house, according to Bob Jones, Board president of the Community Center. Although the money is in the bank to match the funds from the Bing Crosby Youth Fund, it is hoped that contributions will continue to come in to complete the construction without using money allocated for running expenses.

Figures recently released by Ken White, manager, on the use of the pool during the summer, point out its tremendous value as a recreational facility. 511 children were registered for free swim lessons and of those, 443 completed the courses. There were three swim sessions with an average of 147 at each session.

When the pool was open for recreational swimming in the afternoons, attendance numbered 6,300 for the period from May 22 through September 7, with an average weekday of 89 and weekend of 76 swimmers.

There were 106 children who took the pre-school lessons. 51 older children completed the diving course, nine finished junior life saving and 2 completed the senior life saving course.

About 18 children also joined the Red Cross Swim and Stay Fit program of fifty mile swims. One mile is equal to 72 laps of the Valley pool. It seems incredible that several 10 and 12 year olds will have actually completed fifty miles this week. (Complete results will be announced in next weeks Outlook)

In releasing the swimming pool figures president Bob Jones said that he hopes it will stimulate contributions when people realize what a wonderful thing the pool has been for the Valley children. "If you haven't already contributed to the Carmel Valley Community Center, please do!" he added "and maybe someone will even give a second time!"

Sewers and slope-density formula on 'Hudson Huddle' agenda

This Thursday's luncheon meeting, or "Hudson Huddle," at the Golf and Country Club is of two-fold interest to residents of Carmel Valley. Experts will talk on problems and future plans of sewage disposal in the Valley and also on the recently-released slope density plan. Supervisor Tom Hudson said he has asked Ed deMars and someone from William Spangle and Associates, who produced the slope-density plan, to attend the "Hudson Huddle" to explain and interpret the plan and answer questions.

Both items are subjects that are of great importance in the future planning of the Valley.

Anyone who wishes may attend the luncheon meeting, although it is advisable to call the Country Club at 624-5323 to make reservations.

CV Road planlines are continued again

The Board of Supervisors continued the question of planlines on the lower Carmel Valley Road until October 5 at 2 p.m. Although Supervisor Tom Hudson was in favor of abandoning the lines at yesterday's meeting, other members of the board felt that it was inadvisable to remove this control until they had some assurance of scenic easement dedications in this area.

In general, the board was not opposed to rescinding the lines, one member saying Carmel Valley could have a one lane road if that was what they wanted.

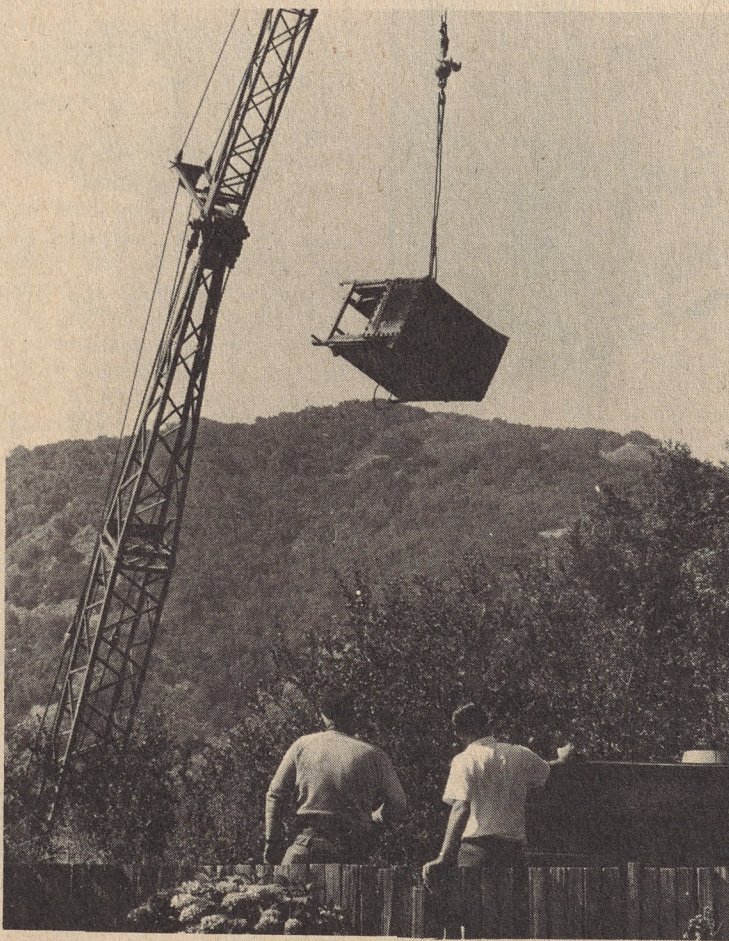

The decision for continuation until October 5 specifically ties in with a hearing on the Monterey Peninsula Area General plan which is scheduled for the same time.

Chamber seeking photos for new Valley brochure

Any photographs of exceptional quality, taken recently of Valley scenes, would be considered for use in the new promotional brochure being prepared by the Chamber of Commerce, Rex White announced at last week's meeting. Three professional photographers have been asked to submit prints but any amateur photos that are pictorially representative of the Valley will be welcomed for consideration. They may be sent to Lori Sweiss, secretary of the Chamber, Box 288, CV.

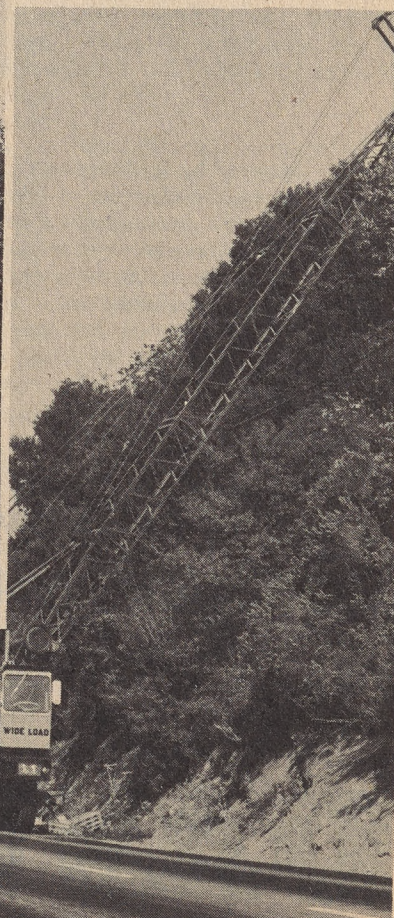

Herb Brownell announced that a letter sent to members of the Carmel Board of Realtors has resulted in three possible sites being offered for the P.G. & E. -road department corporation yard. In addition to the original Schulte Road site, property is available near Carmel Valley Manor and adjacent to the Bishop Kip School, according to Brownell.

White announced that at next month's general membership meeting, a nominating committee will be appointed to prepare a slate of officers for the coming year with elections to be held at the following meeting.

ABOVE-At the other end the old pool heater was removed from its former site by the same method. The aerial form of transportation was devised because the concentrated weight of the piece of equipment would probably crumble walkways and steps at the club.

BELOW-Traffic on Carmel Valley Road was tied up at Porter's Curve when a 2000-pound swimming heater was delivered "over-the-top" to Rancho del Monte Country Club, by a 90 ft. cherry picker crane last Wednesday.

Litigation threat if water bonds pass, says Coates

Indications of a legal battle over the final price which the Monterey Peninsula Municipal Water District would have to pay for properties of the local water company if the $17,500,000 water bond issue is approved at the special election, September 28, were cited this week by John S. Coates, executive secretary of the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association opposing the bond issue.

Coates quoted from a letter received by D. L. Harris of Monterey from William W. Dunlop, secretary of the Calif. Public Utilities Commission in answer to questions raised by Harris concerning the bond issue.

"Both District and water company agreed to abide by the ruling of the Commission on a $13,270,000 value of the system as of September 2, 1959," Coates said. "However, the water company contends that the cost of additions to the water systems would be about $800,000 more than the consultants figured."

"If there is any increase in the improvements and betterment figures as a result of further legal action before the Commission, the bond issue could be increased over the $17,500,000 proposed."

"The water company maintains that with the increase in the final adjudicated cost of improvements and with other adjustments for errors on the part of the financial consultants the bond issue would be $19,500,000 instead of the $17,500,000 proposed for voter approval."

"If the owner formally requests the Commission must make findings fixing the extent that the initial sum shall be increased due to additions or betterments. The petitioner may also formally request the Commission to decrease its finding for the loss or destruction, depreciation and deterioration of the properties subsequent to the date of filing of the original petitions."

"If further action before your Commission is required in the matter, what would your estimate of the time following the take-over of the properties which would elapse before a verdict in this matter could be expected?" Harris asked.

"The time required from the date of the new petitions by the parties to the date of the Commission's decision fixing just compensation for any additions or betterments is dependent on many factors which makes it impractical at this time to give you a concrete answer. It will be necessary to prepare valuation studies for the additions, betterments and for depreciation as well as to hold further hearings to receive evidence and testimony of all parties."

Kindergarten openings at Bishop Kip School

There is still room for kindergarteners at the All Saint's Episcopal Day School in Carmel Valley, according to the school's headmaster, the Rev. Peter Farmer.

Emphasizing the value of small class size, and the school's large play area, five acres of grassy field, Fr. Farmer said, "The rest of our classes are just about the right size, though we could handle a few more children in the second grade."

Parents interested in information about the school are invited to call 624-9171.

More about CVPOA meeting

"Theoretically you can drink water right from a treatment plant," he said "but who wants it."

Tice asked everyone to attend the noon meeting on Thursday, September 16, at the CV Golf and Country Club, when Ed Munson and other health department officials have been asked to attend with Tom Hudson and answer questions regarding the sanitation future of the Valley.

Announcement was made of a letter going to all boxholders in the Valley urging membership in the CVPOA.

Col. Tyner said, "The handwriting is on the wall! People won't stop building, but we must control it. There is strength in numbers."

Referring to comments that the CVPOA doesn't represent the majority of the Valley, Tyner said, "We must grow and stay together. We must realize if 51% are in favor of something, the other 49% shouldn't take their dolls and go home."

"They may be the 51% next time," he concluded.

Letter to the Editor

(Editor's Note. The writer, a civil engineer, served four years as one of the original directors. He resigned in October 1962 due to illness.)

A bit of recent local history:

The summer of 1958 was the time when the pent-up indignation of Peninsula citizens toward the Calif. Water & Telephone Co. crystallized into action. After being subjected to three increases in water rates within seven years, the customers struck back. Petitions were circulated and the question of organizing a Peninsula-wide Water District was placed on the November ballot. The District's mission would be to ascertain whether or not it was feasible to take over (buy out) the water supply system of the California Water & Telephone Co. and one other system. Many readers will recall the hubbub and excitement of that campaign. With the active support of the Monterey Herald, the Water District was voted into being by a large majority (nearly two to one) on Election Day Nov. 4, 1958. At the same time the original five directors were elected. This was the first time such a proposal had been presented to the voters in 23 years; (a similar proposal had been defeated in 1935).

The newly elected Board of Directors proceeded at once with its task; to ascertain the actual facts and to report its conclusions to the people. Would the acquisitions and operation of these water supply properties be feasible and successful financially? Volumes of claims and guesses had been tossed back and forth; now the Board was empowered to cut through all this murky discussion and to discover the real facts. To do this involved the selection of a competent staff of legal, engineering, appraisal and financial consultants. And since "Cal-Water" declined to negotiate or to place a selling price upon their property, it became a case in which the State Public Utilities Commission would have to determine a fair price at which the properties could be taken over by the Water District.

The District directors settled down to the hard painstaking work of interviewing and evaluating various groups of experts. This work was carried on by several committees over a period of months. They succeeded in organizing an outstanding team which functioned so capably that their findings and their presentations before the Public Utilities Commission stood up successfully against all attacks. For example: - "Cal-Water" claimed the value of their properties as of Sept. 2, '59 to be 24 million. The District claimed that these properties were worth about half of that amount, and proved their case so overwhelmingly that the Commission finally set the exact figure at $12,720,000. Time after time during the lengthy hearings the District had reason to be proud of its highly competent "team" of experts.

The original mission of the Water District has now been accomplished: - TO OBTAIN THE ACTUAL FACTS AND TO RECOMMEND A COURSE OF ACTION. The "just compensation" figures are ascertained; a definite bond issue is recommended. The decision is now in the hands of the customers of the two water systems, who will vote their wishes

Dossie's selections from musicals set fast pace for Studio Theatre crowd

Dossie Hollingsworth plays very much to, and with, the audience in her current show, "Music a la Carte," which opened Friday at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant in Carmel. However, we feel she needs a larger hall in which to work in order to carry off the ambitious program she has arranged. Miss Hollingsworth has a powerful voice and the low-ceilinged room does nothing to help her. We had the feeling that pitch problems were caused at times when she tried to hold back. This was not true of numbers that were in the lighter vein and didn't rely on unusual harmonics or plaintif crescendo.

Spontaneous applause greeted Miss Hollingsworth for both "Terrific Rainbow," from "Pal Joey" and "Home Sweet Heaven," from "High Spirits." She really seemed in her element for both selections.

The show is lively and the comic opening number, entitled "Nervous" started things off with a quick fast pace.

First night theatre-goers enjoyed the guest appearance of Nick Le Feuvre who brought down the house with his rendition of "The Reluctant Dragon."

"Music a la Carte" will be presented Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings this weekend at the Studio. Dinner is at 6:30 with the performance starting at 8:30 p.m.

Water Bond letter

on September 28, 1965.

It should be noted that these bonds are REVENUE BONDS; to be paid off by the sale of water to the present consumers. They are NOT to be paid off from general taxes. This distinction does not seem to be generally understood by many voters. The organized opposition, representing the interest of "Cal-Water", seems intent on confusing the voter on this vital point.

With the District's monumental study completed, and with the Utilities Commission ruling handed down, shouldn't we join the 80% of California's water users who are supplied from publicly-owned systems, and who pay less for their water than we do?

MRS. BARBARA WILSON, new kindergarden teacher at Tularcitos, introduced her class to the outdoor classroom built with funds from the Bob Robinson Memorial Fund. In turn, she and another newcomer to the school, Lisa Erskine (center) were told about the building of the memorial by "old-timer," Marion Doud (left). The granite boulders were placed during the summer and carry a bronze plaque dedicating the area to the children of Tularcitos School.

Marion, a third grader, is the third member of the Toley Doud family to attend the Valley school. Lisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Erskine, moved during the summer to their home on Country Club Drive from Mountain View. Mrs. Wilson and her husband bought the Charles Crush house on Laurel Drive when she accepted the teaching position at Tularcitos.

ABOVE: Mrs. Doris Anderson (right), winner of the door prize at Saturday's "Cocktail Capers," had already made up her mind what she wanted by the time she had reached the microphone. The prize, choice of anything in her shop, had been donated by Ellen Waters (left). Mrs. Anderson waxed poetic over a black two piece knit modeled at the show. When her winning number was drawn by Mrs. John Woods (center), Doris knew the outfit was hers!

Community Theatre

'The Firebugs' opens fall season at Circle

The fall season of the Community Theatre will be inaugurated on Friday evening with the opening performance of "The Firebugs," by Max Frisch. Carmel's Circle Theatre will be the setting for the production, which features the Golden Bough Players under the direction of Norman McPhee.

Max Frisch is rapidly becoming known in this country as one of the foremost playwrights from the contemporary European theatre. "The Firebugs" has had notable productions off-Broadway in New York, at the Actor's Workshop in San Francisco and at the Seattle Repertory Theatre. It shares with plays of the "absurd" school, a mixture of wry comedy and atomic-age doom. At the same time, it has proved more popular than the plays of Ionesco or Beckett by virtue of its more obvious political and moral implications.

The Circle Theatre production features Allan Weinfield, Loel Shuler, John Miller and Peter Kuehn. The set has been designed by Carol McPhee.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening performances are planned for seven weekends, ending October 31, prices are $2.50 on Friday and Sunday, $2.75 on Saturday. Season tickets, good for one admission to each Circle production for a period of one year, may be purchased by joining the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula. Regular memberships are $14 and student-teacher education memberships are $10. These subscriptions may be purchased at the Circle box office, or by writing P. O. Box A L, Carmel.

AFA to sponsor 'Monterey County Painting — 1965' show

The second annual competitive exhibition, "Monterey County Painting - 1965," sponsored by the Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts, will be held from October 7 through October 30.

Entry blanks are available at the AFA Gallery on Lincoln in Carmel. The competition is open to any Monterey County resident and paintings in any medium should be presented on Friday, October 1, and Saturday, October 2, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Alfred Frankenstein, art critic for the San Francisco

Chronicle and member of the University of California faculty, will judge the paintings. Three prizes of $300 will be awarded in addition to the opportunity for a one-man show in the AFA Gallery, to be held in June, 1966.

Prize money is raised through contributions from individuals interested in encouraging local artists. Sponsors and those contributing $5 or more toward prizes will be invited to a champagne preview for the exhibiting artists October 6, the night before the show is opened to the public.

AFA denied free space at Sunset

The request by the Peninsula Chapter of The American Federation of Arts for free space at Sunset School was denied last week by the Carmel City Council. The organization had asked for room at Sunset for a workshop and storage space.

The Council granted the request for free storage and offered a reduced rent for the workshop room. The A.F.A., which is a non-profit organization, supported by the local community, stated that because of a lack of sufficient funds they may not be able to accept the rooms, even at the lowered rate.

Opening in boy's choir at All Saints

Mr. Gosling and Robert Forbes, organist and choir-master, train the singers in the fundamentals of music, voice production and performance of church music.

Women's Democratic Club to meet in Pebble Beach

The Eighth Annual Jazz Festival will fill the Peninsula with jazz lovers this weekend with the opening concert scheduled for Friday night at 9 p.m. The theme of this year's festival is "Tribute to the Trumpet," and will feature first time performances of many works.

Miles Davis who was originally scheduled to appear, was forced to cancel his plans at doctors orders because of complications with a broken leg. He had planned to appear in spite of having to wear a cast.

Friday night's concert will begin at 9 p.m. featuring Louis Armstrong, Dizzy Gillespie Quintet, vocalist Mary Stallings, Gil Fuller and the Monterey Jazz Festival Orchestra.

The Saturday afternoon matinee begins at 1:30. The theme "Rebel Voices" brings Charles Valley teenagers have leads in "Innocents"

On Admission Day when the rest of the Valley youngsters were enjoying a holiday, Barbara Makinster and George Gray were hard at work at the White Oaks Theatre. They have the lead roles of the children in the first fall production, "The Innocents," based on the short novel "The Turn of the Screw," by Henry James. Rehearsal started several weeks ago and both Barbara and George are developing British accents for the parts.

Tom Gruenwald, director of "The Innocents," began the initial blocking for the play out-of-doors since the theatre was busy with opera rehearsals on Thursday.

Barbara, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Makinster, and George, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Gray, both appeared in the summer productions of "Brigadoon," "Can-Can," and "Off With His Honorable Head." In "Oklahoma!" Barbara was the young girl, and George manned the center spot lights from the catwalk above the heads of the audience.

Mingus and his sextet, The John Handy Quintet and the Denny Zeitland Trio to the stage. Saturday night will feature the Duke Ellington Orchestra, Dizzy Gillespie Quintet, Earl "Fatha" Hines and Anita O'Day. The Saturday evening concert begins at 8:15 p.m. "New Works and West Coast Premieres," Sunday's matinee at 1:30, will feature the world premiere of "On the Road to Monterey," and "Angel City Suite," played by Dizzy Gillespie with Gil Fuller and the Monterey Jazz Festival Orchestra. Sunday night's performance is scheduled for an early curtain at 7:15 p.m. Among others, Dizzy Gillespie and the Cal Tjader Quintet will appear.

New performers are constantly being added to the program, therefore the artists mentioned are but a portion of those who will appear in the three day Festival.

Carmel Valley author reports on research of ESP

"We are a bit tired of this world and ready for tele-transportation," said Beulah Karney, who in her appearance as guest speaker before the first fall meeting of the Carmel Valley Chapel Guild, predicted a great break through of the psychic phenomena in the 21st Century.

Interest sparked by a footnote while doing research for her book on the life of Junipero Serra, led the Valley author down the path of extra sensory perception to the subject of her next book, the biography of Maria Coronel. Documentary reports of the young nun traveling as many as three times a day in 1620 from Spain to Texas, where she ministered to the Indians, have not been denied by historians. The description of her appearance and teaching given by the tribal members to the Franciscan Padres, appear in direct correlation to the record of her confessions discovered in Madrid.

Well known in the Valley as Mrs. William J. Powers, the distinguished speaker discussed a wealth of books which her captivated audience may read to further their education of what Mrs. Powers described as "not a new discovery, but a rediscovery of a gift which we had lost."

Accompanying Mrs. Powers was David Pickett representing the Thunderbird Shop. Mr. Pickett offered for sale copies of Beulah Karney's books, "The Listening One," a story of an Indian girl at the San Gabriel Mission. Proceeds of the book sales were donated by the Thunderbird Shop to the Chapel Guild.

The large attendance enjoyed the coffee and dessert preceding the meeting, with tables and the room in a striking decor of purple tones by Chairman, Mrs. Robert Davis and her committee members who were Mrs. Larry Busick, Mrs. Elsie Jones, Mrs. Louis Gardner, Mrs. Robert Staples, and Mrs. John Mark. The invocation was given by Rev. Don Johnson and a beautifully appropriate devotional led by Mrs. Ruth Anderson.

The next meeting of the Guild is scheduled for October 13 in Fellowship Hall. Mrs. Stella Miller, chairman, has invited Francis Persons, instructor of Swahili at the Defense Language Institute to be guest speaker. Mrs. Persons will speak on "Women of Congo" where she and her husband served as missionaries.

Cypress Swim Club captures 28 medals in first year

Winding up their 1965 competitive season, the Cypress Swim Club won second place in the Pacific Association AAU Novice Synchronized Swimming Championships at the San Jose Swim and Racquet Club last Saturday.

The show will be juried and judged by the nationally ranked watercolorist, Mr. George Post of San Francisco.

for their team performance of "Toy Soldiers On Parade," were Cypress members Bonnie Banker, Susan Blandin, Lindy Doud, Marnie Mark, Sheila McClain, Kathy Neill, Jo Anne Padjen, and Susan Selfridge.

The one year old Cypress Swim Club finished the competitive season with a total of ten bronze medals and eighteen silver medals in addition to many ribbons from Association and National AAU competition.

While Saturday's meet ends the official season, the club will participate in one more "unofficial" meet this year, a dual one at Santa Clara with the Santa Clara Aquamids on September 25, after which they will concentrate on training new members and fund-raising projects.

From twenty new girls auditioning for membership, nine passed the qualifying swimming tests given at the Community Pool last Wednesday and Thursday. Qualifying from the Valley were Leslie Campbell, Mary Cummings, and Laurie Doud; from Monterey, Jan Eding; from Carmel, Jane Chalkley, Gail Downes, and Kim Pilkenton; and the first members from Pacific Grove, Karen Dinner and Julia Shumelda.

Fund raising plans for the non-profit club include a rummage sale on Friday, October 1, at the Seaside Grange Hall and a big water show featuring all the Junior National AAU synchronized swimming champions to be presented at the Monterey Peninsula College pool October 16 and 17.

The Sheriff's Blotter

By REX PRYER
Outlook Correspondent

September 7--A visitor from Pasadena reported trouble at 10 River Road after midnight. The deputy investigating found that residents were having a party which was crashed by six young men who became involved in numerous instances of assault and battery, destruction of property and disturbance of the peace. The investigation is continuing.

September 4--A resident of River Road reported that personal effects belonging to another resident had been taken. Entry had been through an unlocked front door. Six sport coats, 10 pairs of Levis and blank checks on a Pacific Grove bank had been taken. Victim has notified the bank.

September 2--A Salinas and a Carmel Valley man who had been hunting reported two guns and two pair of binoculars stolen from their car while it was parked near the Post Office in the Village. Both guns were Winchester, one .308 cal. with a Leopold scope, the other .284 cal. with a Redfield variable scope. One pair of binoculars was 7x35, Swift brand, the other was not identified.

September 6--The night guard at Hacienda Carmel reported finding a VW sedan parked near the bridge at 2 a.m. with no one in it. As he checked back toward the river, two persons came out of the brush and ran for the car. They left, driving evasively, but he had already obtained the license number. Deputy is investigating.

August 29--Sylvia M. Cruse, who is in the process of moving to the Mathiot Ranch, reported belongings stored in a locked garage had been stolen. Burglars had forced the lock with a hacksaw blade and taken expensive women's clothing, which she had collected from around the world, valued at $6,000.

August 27--A resident of Country Club Drive whose home had recently burned reported that an undamaged guest house had been vandalized. Rocks had been thrown through windows and extensive damage resulted.

August 29--A resident of El Cuenco Road in Robles del Rio reported a car on fire near her house. By the time her husband dressed and went out, persons had put out fire and left. A gas cap and wallet with identification were left at the scene. They turned wallet over to sheriff who is investigating.

August 30--A resident of Terrace Way reported that within the past ten days an Indian stone mortar bowl, 21" high, by 15" in diameter, and 8" deep, had been stolen from the yard. Stolen article was very heavy and valued at $100.

A hearty welcome is given to new CUSD teachers

UNDER THE OAKS AND AMONG THE CACTI

By MILDRED HATTAN

Among Valley friends who share pleasant memories of the Monterey County Fair are the guests who were invited to join Mr. and Mrs. Fred Starr in their box at the Horse Show. Enjoying the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown, Major (ret.) Billie Mans, and Mrs. June Martin Wood. Following a dinner party at Will's Fargo, the party moved to the Starrs' home in Los Ranchitos where they viewed slides taken by their host and hostess during their two month cruise of the South Pacific.

A speedy recovery to Valley artist, Laura Maxwell who is a patient at the Community Hospital following a fall at her home on Esquiline Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Thomas, former residents of Hitchcock Canyon, entertained friends from the Valley with birthdays in August and September at a picnic last week at their Prunedale home. Attending were Mrs. Gertrude Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt, Mrs. Beulah Haywood, Mrs. Peter Girard, Mr. C. A. Borchers, Mrs. F. D. Howell of San Gabriel and a former Valley resident, Mrs. Stella Smith.

Labor Day was moving day for Pam and Mike Viljoen who moved from Long Beach to a home on Upper Private Road. Helping them were the Ben Viljoen family of Rancho Road who took time out for a tour of Disneyland, while on the South end of the trip.

Ruth Anderson accompanied by her son, Mike, returned to their home on Flight Road last week following a month in Florida. Although Ruth has been a "Westerner" for twenty-five years, she has five brothers and five sisters who live in and near Miami. The Valleyites, who left just as hurricane warnings were being posted, were amazed at their relatives' acceptance of the weather reports. A typical reaction was a refusal by a sister-in-law to accompany them on a final family outing... "I have to stay home and do the laundry because 'Betsy' is coming tomorrow!"

A warm welcome to new residents at 26 Village Drive. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harber with their children, Jeanette, Alan, Terri, Sandi and Vicki, have moved into the former Converse residence. The Harbers hosted a "thank-you-barbecue" for friends who assisted with their move from Marina which had been their home for five years. Attending the housewarming were Trudy and Mack Mills and their two children, from San Benancio Canyon, Vivian and Carlos Pray and their two daughters, from Monterey; Mrs. Sue Hendrix and her four children from Del Rey Oaks and Benita and Bill Conlan and their four children from the Valley.

L/Cmdr. and Mrs. Richard Matherson have returned from a recent tour of Oregon. In addition to exploring the state they showed their beautiful boxer dogs at Portland and Corvallis where blue ribbons were awarded to "Brandy." The Mathersons who with their children, Rickey, Lynn and Jo Anne, have made their home in the Preith house on West Carmel Valley Road will be leaving the 20th of this month. They have purchased seven acres in North Salinas, Tustin Road, where they will open the Bardic Boxer Kennels and continue the family enterprise of raising boxers for breeding and show.

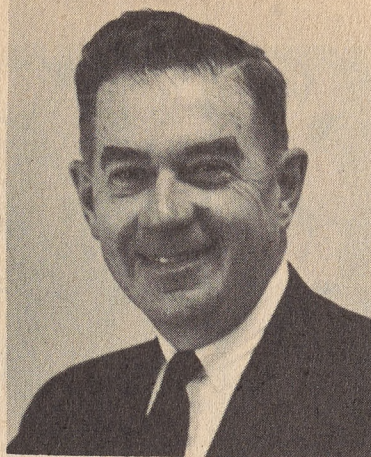

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Pendlay returned to their Country Club Drive home in time for the beginning of school from a vacation at Lake Tahoe and Squaw Valley. The Pendlay sons, Steven and Topper, particularly enjoyed the trip home through the Gold Country. They visited Sutter's Fort and the site of Sutter's Mill at Colomas. The original buildings and flavor of the old town have been preserved and the Boy Scouts of America have erected a monument at the spot where gold was actually first discovered.

Summer guests have filled pages of the guest register at the River Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hunt. Latest entries were made by their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lions and three children of Galesburg, Ill. Following their daughter's seven day visit, the Hunts drove to San Diego for the wedding of a grand-nephew. Enroute home they stopped for a visit with their sister-in-law, Mrs. F. D. Howell of San Gabriel, who accompanied them for a stay in the Valley.

Guests from Hawaii were entertained last week by two Valley "ham" operators and their families. When former resident W. E. Viljoen was ill last winter in the Islands, communications were established by Ronnie Kam whose "Radio Ham" quarters are in the back of an Island restaurant. Word of Mr. Viljoen's recovery was relayed through contacts from Mr. Kam to Mr. Viljoen's son, Ben, and his son-in-law, Tom Bottaro. Mr. Kam, accompanied by Marlin fisherman Richard Chee, visited other Peninsula hams with whom he keeps in weekly touch. Jack Bruce of the Lower Valley, Dean Litts, and Frank Girard of Carmel.

A Labor Day reunion at San Luis Obispo was the first in ten years for the entire family of J. V. Howie of Robles Del Rio. Accompanying Myrtle and Vaughn south were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCalister of San Jose, their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Howie of San Jose, and their niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leavett of Salinas.

He had previously headed the department from January 1961 until his retirement in February 1965 as a Navy commander. Remember last winter?

THIS YEAR, MAKE SURE YOUR HOUSE IS READY.

- 1 Have your heating system checked now. Don't let the first cold snap catch you unprepared for winter. If your heating system is inadequate, now is the time to make necessary additions or repairs.
- 2 Insulate. When floors and ceilings are insulated, rooms heat quickly and you can cut heating costs up to 30%. Good insulation increases the value of your home—and it will probably pay for itself in just a few seasons.
- 3 Weatherstrip. Weatherstripping around doors and windows plugs heat leaks and helps keep out drafts. A door jamb may require a metal strip to take the constant friction of opening and closing, while loose windows may need thick felt stripping.
- 4 Close dampers and drapes in cold weather. Fireplaces and big picture windows take away big chunks of heat and cost you money. Close the damper when the fireplace isn't in use, and draw the drapes or curtains.
- 5 Your winter PG&E bill. Cold dark weather increases your use of electricity for heat and lighting. Your winter PG&E bill will also cover increased use of TV, more cooking, and any new appliances you may have added. However, PG&E electricity remains your biggest household bargain. In fact, the same amount of PG&E gas and electricity costs less today than it did 30 years ago.

White Oaks guest performer

Full schedule leaves Julie Feves little time for play

According to Julie, who is in her second year, a typical daily schedule could begin with a music course at 9:30, an academic course such as history at 10:30, lunch break at 11:30, and then practice till 2 o'clock. A music literature class and an hour of orchestra would complete the afternoon's classes. She would then go home to her apartment, have dinner and then practice in the evening for two or three hours.

Her semester load would include about nine hours of academic credits with the remainder of the 20 hours made up of music history, five hours of her instrument, five hours of theory, music literature, wind repertoire, ect. She described the load as "a few hours of academic credits and goodness knows how many hours of music!"

Students have an opportunity for practical application of their instruction by playing in the National Training Orchestra which presented five concerts last year at Carnegie Hall in New York. The school has also arranged for Julie to play with a woodwind quintet.

Choice of the New York school came after Julie had attended a nine weeks summer music workshop in Aspen, Colorado. Her teacher was Herold Goltzer, who plays with the New York Philharmonic in addition to teaching at Julliard. Julie wanted to continue studying with him and he helped arrange her acceptance at the school.

Her sister, Angene Feves, was instrumental in bringing Julie to Carmel Valley to work in the Opera orchestra. Chris Nance, musical director for the theatre is well known among music students, she said, and he gives them an opportunity to play work that would be unavailable to them otherwise. The music for the Benjamin Britten opera and the chamber music concert was sent to the participating musicians earlier this summer. Then they converged on Carmel Valley the Monday before Thursday's opening, for concentrated rehearsal as a group. Since arriving, they've worked mornings, afternoons and evenings at the theatre and at the former Cowan School, which the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. de Maria, have allowed them to use.

Since registration for Julliard begins on September 25, Julie will have but a short visit with her family in Pendleton, Oregon, before departing for another year's study in New York.

One of the young orchestra members who played bassoon in the White Oaks Opera Company's presentation of "Rape of Lucretia" this past weekend is the sister of Angene Feves, Valley ballet teacher and former member of the staff at the theatre.

Julie Feves is a student at Julliard School of Music in New York City and has been studying music since she started playing the clarinet in the sixth grade. The following year she switched to the bassoon at the request of the band director (because they needed one) and this has been her instrument ever since.

Attending classes at Julliard is somewhat different than at a conventional college, according to Julie. There are several schedules open to students. By attending four years and taking academic courses in addition to music, a Bachelor of Music degree is earned. However, students can attend for four years, concentrate on music, eliminating the academic courses, and receive a diploma. There is also a five year course of music and regular college courses that results in a Bachelor of Science degree.

Julie plans to attend four years for her B.M. and then continue for her Masters degree. After completing her education she hopes to play professionally with a chamber music group or orchestra and teach privately.

All of the students attending Julliard are there because music if foremost in their interests. There are no dormitories or campus resident facilities, so they must find lodging in rooms or apartments in the city. Much of their social life centers around musical happenings in New York City.

This Seller is PERTURBED!

He says he has the handsomest house in the area for sale at anything like his price. He says the view of Pt. Lobos is tops. He says there never was a garden like his. He has the whole property in top shape. He contends the study is perfect for a man, and perfect for guests, and that few houses any more have really good dining rooms like his, and he's sure the bomb shelter is the best possible to build. He argues that his price of $59,500 for this Pebble Beach location is not only "right", it's low. You know what? We agree with him all the way along the line. What we think is that it has been waiting these several weeks just for YOU to come along. The price IS right, and the seller's anxious to begin his travels. When can you see it?

Corporation yard, sewage and membership at CVPOA meeting

St. E. P. Tyner, president of the CVPOA told those attending the quarterly meeting last week that he and Rex White, president of the Valley Chamber of Commerce, been appointed by Tom Hudson to chair a committee to "find" a corporation yard before one is "shoved down our throats."

However, he assured the membership that the Board would not present recommendations to the Planning Commission or the Board of Supervisors on its own and nothing concrete would be done before the next general meeting.

Several in the audience indicated concern that CVPOA might be put in a position of endorsing a location without proof that a joint corporation yard is needed.

Tyner answered that the Supervisors and Planning Commission say we need one and that we should be in the driver's seat.

Tyner again reassured the assembled group that nothing more than a recommendation for zoning would be made. He added that individuals from the Carmel Board of Realtors and the Commercial Property Owners Association were acting in an advisory capacity and were not members of the committee to suggest sites.

However, because of a letter which was sent to members of the Carmel Realty Board at least eight different locations have been offered, he added.
